Description: The Bouros Speeder from Loronar, was marketed as a one person luxury sports speeder, and although they got the luxury part of its design exactly right they got the sports part completely wrong and its slow speed and clumsy handling made it a major flop. The few sold are reliable and durable speeders which are luxurious for the driver and the speeder can actually resist quite an amount of damage, but the large size and loud noise the speeder makes are sure signs of why the second hand price is so low despite the range of luxury fittings like seat massager and a quality in-speeder entertainment system.
