Description: Toren, known as Papa Toren, was a Axaleem male crime lord who operated on the planet Castell. After Lando Calrissian recovered one of his trinkets, Toren coerced the smuggler into stealing the Emperor Palpatine's personal yacht Imperialis in order to pay off the rest of his debt. By the time of the New Republic, Toren and his Ximpi were imprisoned at Megalox prison on the planet Megalox Beta. In an unsuccessful bid to escape the prison, Toren agreed to help the First Order Agent Terex kill the Resistance pilot Poe Dameron and his Black Squadron and to storm Grakkus the Hutt's fortress. This plot failed, and Terex abandoned Toren and his fellow gangsters to die under the weight of Megalox Beta's heavy atmosphere.

Biography

Age of the Empire

When the Galactic Empire arrived on Castell, a trinket of Toren's was stolen by Moff Ssaria. Toren then got the smuggler Lando Calrissian to recover the trinket from Ssaria as a means of repaying his debt. However, Toren reneged on his deal and told Calrissian that only ten percent of his debt had been eliminated. To repay the rest of the debt, Toren hired Calrissian to steal the Imperialis, Emperor Palpatine's pleasure craft. Toren told Calrissian that all he wanted was the craft and that Calrissian could keep the craft's contents. During the meeting, Toren was aided by a Ximpi, who acted as a translator between him and Calrissian.

Lando agreed and recruited Lobot, the Ugnaught scholar Korin Pers, and the alien clones Aleksin and Pavol to aid with the heist. Using stealth suits provided by Toren, they infiltrated the Sienar Fleet Systems Orbital Shipyard CC-24 and stole the yacht. After being pursued by a squadron of Imperial Star Destroyers, Lando and his crew discovered the ship's true identity and its Sith treasures.. Aleksin and Pavol were corrupted by a Sith mask aboard the ship and turned on the other crew. Aleksin killed Pers, but Lando and Lobot managed to escape with the help of the bounty hunter Chanath Cha. After killing Aleksin and Pavol, Chanath destroyed the ship and the three fled in escape pods.

Galactic power-grab

Following the re-emergence of the criminal syndicate Crimson Dawn and the subsequent battle between the Hutt Clans and the Empire, the relationship between the two powerful forces began to fray. Following this, Crimson Dawn began to encourage many other criminal groups to vie for Imperial favor, including Papa Toren's group. From their base on Castell, Toren and his allies welcomed Trinia, an envoy of Crimson Dawn, who delivered the message to them.

First Order-Resistance conflict

By 32 ABY, Toren and his Ximpi were prisoners on the planet Megalox Beta's prison, which was considered to be one of the New Republic's worst prisons for the worst criminals. Toren became a criminal boss and commanded a gang. During the search for Lor San Tekka, Toren and the other crime bosses Kan Be and Isin met with the First Order Security Bureau agent Terex. Grakkus the Hutt, the most powerful mob boss in the prison, had broken his deal with Terex to disclose information about Lor San Tekka.

During the meeting, Toren asked Terex through one of his Ximpi translators what the First Order agent wanted. Seeking revenge against Grakkus, Terex hired Toren and the other mob bosses to attack Grakkus' fortress and to kill the Resistance pilot Poe Dameron and his Black Squadron associates. In return, Terex promised Toren and his fellow crime bosses the opportunity to escape Megalox on his ship Carrion Spike. Putting their plan into action, the mob bosses attacked the fortress but had to contend with Black Squadron and the Hutt guards.

Ultimately, the assault failed because Poe's astromech droid BB-8 and the squadron's droids managed to disable the gravity field protecting the prison from Megalox Beta's high gravity. Toren and the other gangsters and Terex were overwhelmed by the planet's high gravity. One of Toren's Ximpi was killed by the high force of the gravity. When the other Ximpi asked Toren about his comrade, Toren realized that his companion had died and began weeping. Terex escaped aboard the Carrion Spike and abandoned Toren and the other criminals to die.

Personality and traits

Papa Toren was a male member of the Axaleem species. He could not speak Galactic Basic Standard and spoke in a tongue inaudible to Lando Calrissian and Terex. When dealing with humans, Toren hired several small, winged Ximpi as associates and translators. Toren was known as an exploitative employer who tricked Calrissian into recovering his trinket under the pretext of wiping out his debt. He kept Calrissian indebted in order to coerce the smuggler into stealing the Emperor's yacht Imperialis.

As a mob boss, Toren commanded a gang in Megalox prison. His desire to escape the harsh prison led him to participate in Terex's plan to attack Grakkus and Black Squadron. Despite his exploitative nature, Toren loved and respected his elves. When one of them was crushed to death by Megalox's high gravity, he was heard weeping by his fellow gangsters Kan Be and Isin.
