Description: A ferry droid operated a ferry along a lava river on the planet Nevarro. The droid had the appearance of an R2 series astromech droid, though had been modified to have legs and two sets of arms, which he used to row the ferry down the river. When the Mandalorian, Cara Dune, Greef Karga, and IG-11 were attempting to escape forces of Moff Gideon's Imperial remnant with the Child, they boarded the droid's ferry, and the droid began to take them downriver. However, the Mandalorian noticed a number of stormtroopers waiting for them at the end of the tunnel, and Dune urged the droid to stop the ferry. When the droid continued to row, Dune shot the droid, but the droid's destruction did not stop the boat from moving.
