Description: Chirodactyls, also known as Dathomirian bats, were a species of winged carnivorous creatures native to the planet Dathomir. One chirodactyl known as Gorgara was especially notorious among the natives of the planet.

Gorgara was a female chirodactyl that resided on the planet Dathomir, known in local legends as "the winged daemon of the canyon."

In a battle with the Jedi Padawan Cal Kestis, Gorgara was killed after crashing into a wall of rock whilst attempting to throw Kestis from her hair.
