Description: Although the Corellians have always been known for their more reckless attitude to laws, and as legendary pirates and smugglers, their corporations have alway made an attempt to stick to laws and galactic convention. The YT-1566 is a perfect example of this attitude, a vessel obviously designed to be upgraded and have heavy weaponry and custom equipment mounted into its hull, but which comes equipped to within all legal requirements. With its twin laser cannons, fast engines and shields, the YT-1566 is already a powerful vessel, but upgraded with faster Ion Drives, extra weapons on its forward hull and extra hull plating and energy shields, the YT-1566 is perfect as a raiding and combat vessel which is reknowned across the galaxy for its prowess in battle, and its excellent upgrade and repair times.
