Description: A second harvester was owned by the Gozzo businessman Raxlo during the High Republic Era. After the first harvester was destroyed, another one was built.[2] Raxlo flew the new harvester during the Battle of Tenoo in support of his Jedi allies.[3]
Later, Raxlo was coerced by the Hutt crime lord Bulcha into selling his second harvester. Bulcha intended to use the second harvester to extract tenga rocks from the wellagrin habitat on Andraven. After the Jedi younglings Kai Brightstar, Lys Solay and Nubs sabotaged Bulcha's harvester, Bulcha seized Raxlo's third harvester and attempted to continue harvesting tenga rocks. Raxlo managed to repair his second harvester and used it to defeat Bulcha in a brief skirmish. Following Bulcha's defeat, Raxlo reclaimed both his harvesters and proceeded to repair them.[4]
