

Weapons D6 / VerdanTech m3 Combat

VerdanTech m3 Combat Shotgun

VerdanTech found their original model of combat shotgun highly unacceptable. Not only did it fail to provide necessary performance in the field, it was poorly marketed too. The previous product line was quickly scrapped and a new unit was designed. The m3 shotgun was meant for use by Urban Assault and SWAT teams. It had a plastiwood stock and was able to hold 6 shells, and could discharge them at a fairly impressive rate.
