Planets D6 / Silla

Name: Silla
Moons: At least 1
Class: Terrestrial
Atmosphere: Breathable
Climate: Temperate
Primary terrain: Forests, Mountains
Points of interest: Silla's solar farm
Flora: Trees
Immigrated species: Aqualish, Arcona, Human, Rodian, Twi'lek

Description: Silla was a forested planet in the galaxy. During the Imperial Era, the Imperial ship Transport 904 crash-landed on the planet. It was later scavenged by the rogue Clone Force 99.

The planet had forests, grassy areas, and mountains.

Places of Interest
Silla's solar farm
Silla's solar farm was a power grid located near a village on Silla. An escaped Zillo Beast clone climbed on the structure to consume energy from the power grid.

Village
A village was located on Silla. During the Imperial Era, it was set upon by a cloned Zillo Beast that had escaped from a crashed Imperial transport. After feeding upon the village's power grid, it grew dramatically in size before it was eventually subdued and recaptured by Imperial forces. After the incident, the entire village was forcibly evacuated by Imperial clone commandos.

Stats by FreddyB, Descriptive Text from WookieePedia.
Image copyright LucasArts.
Any complaints, writs for copyright abuse, etc should be addressed to the Webmaster FreddyB.