

Starships D6 / Zaltin/Kuat Drive Yards B

Zaltin Bacta Hauler Mark I

Zaltin, one of the Chief Bacta Producing companies in the galaxy, needed a transport designed to specially haul the precious healing fluid safely. Their chief rival, Xucphra, had the same problem and went to the Corellian Engineering Corporation. Zaltin instead went to Kuat Drive Yards for their tanker. The first tanker was a very vulnerable and fragile craft with four large external tanks, no shields, and no defensive weapons.
