Atreides Ornithopter

Adapted to use in the extremely dry climate of Arrakis, the Atreides 'thopter is a very good machine, though utilises an old-style engine system. 1/2 jet, and 1/2 helicopter, the 'thopter uses jet engines to propel itself when speed is the necessity, and is often used in combat.

It uses its twin fan-like rear engines when stealth is required, or to conserve fuel. Used by the Atreides in the conflict on Arrakis, and later by smugglers and Fremen, the Atreides 'thopter was an acknowledged success on Arrakis and usually outperformed the sleeker Harkonnen machines.
