*: The wheels of the War-Wheel rotate as the vessel moves, this is done to rotate its overpowered weapons during their cooling off period after each shot, taking 5 rounds to rotate the wheels through 360 degrees. The War-Wheel can bring 9 of its TurboLasers and 18 of its Laser Cannons to bear in either the forward or back fire arcs at any one time. But standard tactics dictate that only 8 TurboLasers and 8 Laser Cannons are fired at any one time, to allow the War Wheel to continually fire without having to wait for its weapons to cool down before firing again, however some commanders prefer attempting to finish a battle quickly rather than hold back for a drawn out battle.

Description: The War-Wheel was a massive battlecruiser used by the Sontarans. The ship appeared as an axle with two wheels on its ends. It was armed with a space cannon, carried Sontaran shuttlecraft and was captained by an Admiral.

One War-Wheel was used in the pursuit of a Rutan spy and moved to every intersecion point where the Rutan might be.

Sontaran Commander Steg intended to open a wormhole above Sentarion and send a War-Wheel through it to Ruta III where it would kill the Rutan Queen. The Doctor closed the wormhole and trapped the War-Wheel inside.
