

The Perpel

The Perpel serves as the flagship of the Wereling Spaceworks corporate defense starfleet. It was brought into service through a trade deal with Supreme Warlord Verl of the Tyrr Sector that included several thousand tons of supplies as well as an entire starfighter wing and picket cruisers. While Verl believes that he got the best end of the deal, Wereling owner, Hesst Nal, has clearly used the carrier as an effective raiding platform, disrupting the commerce of competing corporations.

Nal had all laser cannon emplacements removed and turbolaser batteries installed to give the ship a fighting chance against even much larger starships.
