Description: The Laser Bazooka was built as a replacement for the missile and rocket launchers that were the main man portable long range weapon for many centuries. Although as deadly in use and almost as long ranged, the sheer initial price of the Laser Bazooka meant the weapon sold in extremely small quantities, even though this cost would be offset by the lack of any later outlay for missiles or rockets. The Laser Bazooka is restricted to military purchasers only, although as always the black market seems to have a ready supply.
