

LRR-44 Repeating Blaster

The LRR-44 is almost indistinguishable with the LR-22 Blaster Rifle, they are both similar in make and design. Although the LRR-44 lacks the targeting systems of a LR-22, it makes up with it's fast rate of fire and large amount of ammo. The LRR-44 uses standard power packs and can carry two at a time, both of them can easily be snapped into place on the weapon between the rear and foward retractable grip. Although this weapon is not as widely destrubuted as the LR-22, it is still common to find several in a platoon.
