

RanCorp UT-AT

The Rancorp UT-AT is a horrible monstrosity cooked up from sentient's worst nightmares. It looks like some kind of giant arachnid. It has a long thick body with legs that arch up and back down away from it in a similar fashion to a spider's. It's rear quarter holds troops or vehicles for deployment into a safe zone. It has a single weapon, a 100mm chaingun. The chaingun feeds off large ammo racks which must be replaced every 800 shots. It takes 2 crewmen to reload the massive racks. This weapon has inspired fear beyond belief on the battlefield.
