Description: The Heavy Artillery Gun, or HAG, was a mobile artillery piece used by the Confederacy of Independent Systems. It had a design similar to the AAT, but had large, yellow photoreceptors on the front "foot", and lacked the secondary laser turrets and energy shell launch tubes found in its cousin. Its artillery cannon had tremendous range, and was lethal to the Republic's RTTs and walkers. It was also referred to as a "Mortar Tank". Following the execution of the Separatist Council by Darth Sidious's new apprentice Darth Vader formerly Anakin Skywalker, these units were de-activated.
