Description: The Protector Blaster Pistol is a fairly cheap self defence weapon from the small blaster manufacturer KWT based on the industrial world of Kuat. The Blaster is aimed at the dangerous urban markets for civilians to protect themselves against the gangs and criminals that often lurk in the shadows of the massive cities, however the blaster was also purchased by a number of enforcement agencies since it is a reliable and long ranged weapon. The Protector has been in production since before the rise of Emperor Palpatine, and retains the heavily stylised design of that era, which is a design that remains popular with those who also choose their weapons for style as well as power.
