Description: This was SoroSuub's attempt to break BlasTech's hold on the light repeating blaster market, making a gatling style repeating blaster that could lay down a hailstorm of fire. The high rate of fire of this weapon makes it fairly easy to keep on target (all penalties for multiple shots with this gun are halved, rounding down (eg for 2 shots the penalty is 0D, for 3 1D for 4 1D, etc)). This weapon never caught on with the military market however due to its high cost, but mercenaries and special forces teams who get to choose their weapons are big fans of this dangerous and well made weapon.
