Description: Lakeetahs were creatures found exclusively in the grasslands of the Outer Rim planet Tenoo. They were known for their speed and always traveling as a family unit. Between around 232 BBY and 230 BBY, Jedi Initiates Nubs, Kai Brightstar, and Lys Solay brought their astromech droid friends Beepers, Dozer, and Gigi on a speeder bike ride around the Tenoo grasslands, where they encountered a lone lakeetah cub. They affectionately named him "Zippy". Upon reading the entry for lakeetahs in the Galactic Creature Guide, Solay became determined to get Zippy back to his family, who the Jedi surmised had wandered off from his family due to his easily distractible nature. The Jedi tracked down the other lakeetahs and reunited Zippy with his family. Lakeetahs were able to safely consume Mossberry Biscuits.
