Description: Bisnus were a type of small, quadrupedal, egg-laying creature that could be found in the junkyards on the planet Bracca. They had purple skin, green eyes, and gray fur. Sometime between 232 BBY and 230 BBY, Jedi Padawan Lys Solay and her astromech droid Gigi went searching for an instrument on Bracca for mechanic Nash Durango's mom. When the two found a guitar-like instrument, they discovered that a bisnu was trying to use the soundhole as a nest for her eggs. Realizing the instrument provided too little space for the creature, Solay offered her a bigger crate to be used as a nest instead. The bisnu accepted it, and Solay took the instrument, eventually giving it to Nash.
