Creatures D6 / Faa (Carnivorous Fish)

Name: Faa
Designation: Non-sentient
Classification: Scalefish
Skin color: Orange and tan (with blue mottle)
Distinctions: Protruding features
Point of origin: Naboo, Koboh
Habitat: Swamps, Oceans
Diet: Carnivorous

Dexterity: 2D
Perception: 1D
Strength: 2D

Special Abilities
Bite: Although not dangerous to humanoids, Faa are carnivorous and capable of biting for Str+1D damage.

Move: 8 (Swimming)

Description: Faa, also known as faa fish or big-mouth faa, were a species of scalefish native to the planet Naboo. They lived alongside six other scalefish species in the waters around the city Otoh Gunga in Lake Paonga, and could also be found in the Naboo Abyss where they were preyed upon indiscriminately by the large colo claw fish and opee sea killers that dwelt there.

Biology and appearance
Unlike other scalefish species, which were mostly harmless, the faa was a vicious carnivore They had a wide, flat head with a narrow midsection that ended in a large paddle-like tail. Small pectoral fins were located on the side of the head. Their skin was a graduated orange color with blue stripes.

History
Faa were present in the waters of the planet Naboo. Jedi Master Qui-Gon Jinn, his Padawan Obi-Wan Kenobi, and the Gungan Jar Jar Binks encountered some faa as they swam to Otoh Gunga to meet with its representatives during the Trade Federation's Invasion of Naboo.

By 9 BBY, there were only a few faa left on the planet Koboh due to them being harvested for their succulent glands.

Stats by FreddyB, Descriptive Text from WookieePedia.
Image copyright LucasArts.
Any complaints, writs for copyright abuse, etc should be addressed to the Webmaster FreddyB.