Description: The gorocco was a species of maned creature native to the planet Koboh. It had orange skin and a black mane, and it had a pair of tusks. It was large, capable of growing above 1.82 meters in height. Goroccos had a hierarchal pack structure which usually had a gorocco matriarch as the leader. Gorocco made their homes in the bluffs and crevices of Koboh, and were keen on territorial defense. The species was powerful and fast, notable for hurling objects at potential adversaries.
