Equipment D6 / Neogen Assault Trooper Bod

Neogen Assault Trooper Body Armor

When Jaimus Sunn first thought up the Neogen army, he wanted something that would both strike fear into the enemy and create a symbol of his military, much like the Imperial Stormtrooper's white, plated shock uniforms. To show their strength he designed a special chest protector. The protector was sculpted to display massive uperbody strength, so they exagerated chest muscles. When worn it appears that the wearer is extremly strong. Underneeth the thick but light durasteel outer shell is a soft and padded shock vest. This vest helps absorb physical blows to the wearer. The Armor also comes with a utility belt which carries many ammo pouches.
