Equipment D6 / Akira Shedim Powersuit

Akira Shedim Powersuit

The Shedim powersuit, is Akira's newest product. It is a very pwoerful, and very expensive peice of ahrdware. It is made of thickc eramic composite armour with light and flexible emtal lining the inside of it. The suit has a bulky build to it, and is completely black. It's eyepeices glow a firey red giving it a demonic appearance, espcialy in the dark. This big badass peice of hardware has got a repeating blaster swung voer one shoulder, a grenade launcher built into the left arm, and a silenced firearm built into the right. Ammo ejectors and insert slots are carefully hidden on the armour to facilitate reloading of all the weapons. The suit has enviromentla filters, and three hours of internal air, as wlel as many advanced sensor devices. Everything from motion sensors, to macrobinouclars, to infared is equipped on the shedim, all hooked into the MFTAS system. Advanced hydraulics and servomotors can as much as double the wearer's strength, allowing them to eprform feats they never thoguht possible before. The armour also has a built in jetpack with an easy fuel replacement system, and repulsor coils built into the boots. the rpeulsors allow the suit to actualy hover up to 15 feet in the air cosntantly, while the ejtpack supplies more considerable thrust. This armour is an extremely expesnive model and is boguht only by serious individuals, such as big time bounty hunters.
