Equipment D6 / Zealot Power Suit

Zealot Power Suit

The zealot power suit is fast moving and incredibly durable power suit which turns it's wearer into a fearsome enemy. The armor covers the entire body head to foot without inhibiting the flow of movement and actualy increasing movement speed through speclia leg enhancing servo-motors. On each forearm are force blades which are conical blades which when activated emit an enrgy wall around themselves very similar to a lightsaber. In the helmet a subspace radio, macrobinoculars and an atmospheric recycler help keep the wearer alive in harsh conditions. The ATAP allows the weaer to quickly act in response to atack and miraculously increases reflexes by feeding input directly to the brain through the cybernetic link. The cybernetic link is the armor's one downside. The weaer must get an implant to allow him to cumincate with the armor, the implant is right in the back of the head and allows the armor to feed information directly to the brain. This implant cannot be removed without killing the subject after it's installed and it's very expensive. While the armor has obvious ebenfits it also has obvious fallbacks and one must be determined to use this armor.
