

Kalpien-Deskua M364 S1 Blaster Rifle

During the ensuing peace that followed the Clone Wars, Kalpien-Deskua Armaments produced the first model of the S1 rifle. Influenced by BlasTech and Merr-Sonn long-rifle designs, the S1 was immediately adopted by the Commonwealth Sector Territorial Army. In the Commonwealth Sector at the time of the rifle's purchase, two rival factions were at war with one another for the sector's political control in a savage and brutal civil war: the powerful and ruthless Commonwealth Social Reformists (CSR) and the under-powered Anarchist Revolutionaries. The CSR was equipped almost entirely with new S1 rifles, while the poorly-financed Revolutionaries were outfitted with archaic firearms, crude explosives, and swords. The Anarchist Revolution was quickly defeated, and the CSR took control of the governmental power.

The S1 would stay in production with the Commonwealth government until its very collapse against the Imperials approximately twenty years after the Commonwealth Civil War. By this time, much more appropriate battle rifles were being used in the field by other galactic organizations, but the S1 remained in production because of its brute simplicity and sheer durability in the worst of combat extremes. The S1 was produced in three models: the M360, M362, and the M364, all of which became available for cheap prices on the open market once the Commonwealth government collapsed.
