

Weapons D6 / VerdantTech Uz-8 Repeater

VerdantTech Uz-8 Repeater

The Urban Zone 8 light repeater is one of Verdant Technologies weapons that got a bad name. The weapon was designed to be a trench and bunker sweeper for the Empire. It used a circular powerpack that could charge up over twice as many shots as a regular rifle. The weapon was short and easy to handle and sweep about. However the Empire didn't like the weapon but gangsters did. Gangsters bought the weapons in large quantities because the weapon had great stopping power and could be concealed under a long coat. The weapon became infamous as a gang warfare weapon, and many times in gang infested areas speeders would drive by while a person leaned out a window and fired an Uz-8 at a group of people. These 'drive by shootings' became typical gang tactics.

Model: Verdant Technologies Uz-8 Light Repeating Blaster

Type: Urban Zone Repeater Blaster

Scale: Character

Skill: Blaster: Uz-8

Ammo: 250

Cost: 2500 credits

Availability: 2, X

Fire Rate: 5

Range: 3-50/350/550

Damage: 5D+2

Game Notes: On constant fire mode, when a target is hit by an Uz-8 shot, roll one die. If the roll is 1-4, roll normal damage. If the roll is 5-6, damage is x2 (because of the intense rate of fire, the character is likely to be hit by more than one blast bolt). (constant fire mode fires 25 shots per round)

The firer may choose to concentrate all fire on one target instead of sweeping while on constant fire. The difficulty for the shot then gets a +10 modifier on it however if the 'shot' hits, then it does 11D+1 damage instead of 5D+2.
