Equipment D20 / VerdanTech L-5 Shoulder M

VerdanTech L-5 Shoulder Mounted Missile Launcher

The L-5 is a shoulder mounted system. It has a harness the suer puts on with a belt brace. The belt has the firing control on it, on a joystick that also controls the movement of the launcher on their shoulder. the launcher itslef is put on a traverse on the user's shhoulder. A holo targeting dispaly comes off over their eye. The display is semi-transparent so as not to ahndicap the user, however it voerlays the targeting image. It can zoom in like a macrobinocular on the aquired target. The missile is very powerful, enoguh so to cause damage, though not uotright destroy, an AT-AT walker.
