VerdanTech VT-3 Holdout Firearm

The VT-3 is barely small enough to be called a hold out. Using more advanced technology it's based off old 9mm designs with a smaller clip and stornger, thinner material, for the weapon casing. This allows it to be smaller though pack slightly less punch it has a signifigant amount of stopping power for a weapon classifiable as a holdout. It is well liked among wealthier gamblers and buisness owners especialy with it's sleek design.
