Equipment D6 / RanCorp Mark-6 Holo-shroud

RanCorp Holo-Shroud

This device is a small semi-bulky device that can be cklipped to a person's belt. It's about the size of a medpac and has a miniature computer and hiolographic projector as well as power cells. The preselected image covers and hides the wearer beneath it. These devices are useful for getting past security gaurds and cameras or many other aplications.

Model: RanCorp Mark-6 Holo-shroud
Type: Mini-holographic display
Cost: 5,000
Skill:compuer program/repair
Availability: 2 r
Charges: last 3D minutes.
Game Notes: The hologram is visualy perfect and mimcs the wearers every move though some advanced droids are able to detect a "flicker" in the hologram. The only sure way to uncover the holo-shroud trick is to preform a scan or else realize it when your hand passes right through the Hologram.
