

Weapons D6 / Nerial ELV-8000 Kinetic

Kinetic Energy Disruptor Rifle

The Kinetic Energy Disruptor is a breakthrough weapon which could lead to a new devastating line of weapons. It uses kinetic energy to break apart the cohesion with a crop of molecules thus ripping the target apart. The blast is very powerful and upon impact with a target will spread out across as much of the body surface as possible. These weapons have been known to be good at blasting through doors and walls. While not quite as unique as they'd like the weapon to be, it may prove to be the doorway to major success for RanCorp.
