

Lumnar Shock-net Pistol

Lumnar Industries' Shock-net technology is a new concept to the galaxy. Rather than a stun net, it creates a net totally out of energy with a stun charge built in. The net spreads out over a short range in a spreading arc. It will wrap around any targets it ensnares and stuns them down and sticks to them. The pistol carries a good sized charge in it's powerpack as well, where a stunnet pistol carries one net, a single shocknet pack carries charge for five.
