Verdant Spaceworks Orbital Starfighter Factory

Verdant Spaceworks uses orbital starfighter factories to build mechandise to sell to whoever buy from the wealthy company. The company originally started out over Wroona with only one factory and a skyhook as it's base of operations. Then it became, three skyhooks, and five factories. Then they built new factories in other sysyetms as their buisness grew. The sister company Verdant Technologies also grew and so the two of them communally prospered and expanded. Now over a dozen worlds have Verdant Spacewrorks Orbital Starfighter factories over them. These factories keep some fighters around for defense as well as a fairly impressive arsenal to defend against any would be raiders.
