Starships D20 / Crimtan Technologies CAR-1

Pigeon Courier Ship

To follow up the successful sales of its other designs, Crimtan Technologies has begun to sell the Pigeon Courier Ship. It can carry moderate amounts of cargo, a few passengers, and do it at a reasonable speed. These ships were mostly bought up by corporations, where they are usually outfitted with defenses. In their unmodified state, Pigeons must rely on their sensors to pick up any hostile ships ahead of time, and its speed to outmanuever any attacker until it can safely reach its destination.
