Starships D20 / Sienar Armed Courier

Sienar Armed Courier

This advanced armed courier design comes form the workshop of the technological genius Raith Sienar, and features laser cannons, extensive sensor systems and an experimental high-temperature ion engine system requiring large radiator panels, which fold inward during landings.

It is sometimes darkly hinted that Raith Sienar is poised to design the deadly spacecraft of a new space navy that would enforce the law of a new order in the galaxy. In fact, Raith Sienar's operations will eventually become Sienar Fleet Systems, famous and feared throughout the galaxy in the days of the Empire. Sienar's Advanced Projects would one day create a distinctive TIE fighter reminiscent of the armed courier which would be used by Darth Vader.
