Crowd Breaker Riot Control Vehicle

The Crowd Breaker was also made from design concepts within the Corporate sector. Elvar saw ESPOs as the most brutal law enforcement agents in the galaxy and wished to make sure his gear was up to their standards. The vehicle moves the riot control officers to the scene quickly and then clams up and becomes a fortress.

The vehicle has several weapons to disperse the crowd, most of which are defensive. Dozens of steam jets blast high temperature steam at anyone close enough to the vehicle and stun panels on the outside of the craft provide a surprise to anyone who is foolish enough to touch the craft. The craft also has glop grenades to trap rioters under masses of coagulant and blaster cannons for when the situation gets really bad.
