Races D6 / Umgah (Blobbies)

Umgah (Blobbies)

Umgahs are short, purple, blob like creatures from the planet of Beta Orionis. Unlike what most people think, Umgahs are NOT balls of slime like various racing blobs. Instead they are covered by normal (well, normal for them) skin. They have any where from five to seven tentacle like arms (no hands or fingers), three to five mouths, and two to six eyes spread randomly over their pudgy body. They are masters of genetics and technology despite what they may look like. Generally all Umgah are chaotic and evil with a wicked sense of humor (attacking a Moff's shuttle is a joke to them). The Umgah are asexual and divide about once every standard month much in the same way a cell divides creating two new, and identical Umgahs.
