Starships D6 / Spathi Eluder

Spathi Eluder

The Spathi spacecraft, the Eluder, is designed with fear in mind... Spathi fear, that is. That vessel is heavily armored, and built to decoy enemy fire away from the crew-containing sections. The latter swarm frightened Spathis. Nonetheless, the Eluder is fast and agile, a characteristic which led one Imperial crew to nickname the craft the "space jitterbug." Eluders dodge most enemy weapons. The Spathi crew fires a small missile when flying towards an opponent (very rare). The Eluder preference is the worthy B.U.T.T. (Backwards Utilizing Tracking Torpedo), a powerful missile that fires directly backwards.
