Equipment D6 / Eldar Armor

Eldar Armor
Most commonly seen being worn into battle by Eldar Aspect Warriors, the Eldar carapace is a lightweight yet extremely durable and strong design that is essentially mesh armour with molded and reinforced joints. The heaviest of these suits provides protection comparable to power armor and yet weighs little more than a suit of Storm Trooper Carapace.
Complete suits of Eldar Aspect Armor are fully-sealed and pressurized, allowing the wearer to survive airless conditions (such as hard vacuum or underwater) for extended periods of time. Many suits of Aspect Armor also incorporate supplemental systems, roughly the equivalent of Imperial auto-senses, targeters, micro-beads and the like.
