Description: Dalgos were four-legged animals native to the planet of Onderon. Onderon rebels used dalgos as beasts of burden and battle mounts during the Battle of Onderon.

Dalgos were a creature native to the dense jungles of the planet Onderon. Unlike their smaller herbivore cousins, they were carnivorous predators. Despite this, they could still be domesticated, filling many of the same roles.

Along with their cousins, they were also found on the desert moon Zardossa Stix.
