Description: Our lucky lady Jane is a modified ore transport that smuggles diplomats from the Isolation Zone into the Andathosi Protectorate in late 2999 UE (United Earth), she has improved shields, sensors, a secure communications suite and an AI charging port compatible with a DZ9 Socialator droid.

Characteristics: the ship is externally identical to the standard model with a rectangular forward section containing the bridge, crew quarters, FTL system, weapons locker and an eight cell brig. The cargo modules take up the center section of the ship, the docking spine and monorail is also in this section, aft is the guest quarters, a second weapons locker and the engineering spaces.
