Droids D6 / TaggeCo Z-X3 experimental droid

Type: TaggeCo Z-X3 experimental droid trooper
Dexterity: 2D
    Blaster 5D, Dodge 4D, Grenade 4D
Knowledge: 1D
    Survival 4D
Mechanical: 2D
Perception: 2D
Strength: 3D
Technical: 1D

Equipped with:
    Humanoid Body
    Vocabulator
    Two visual and two auditory sensors
    Armoured Skin (+1D)
    Blaster Cannon Harness (5D)

Move: 10
Size: 1.9 meters
Cost: (available only on the black market) 10,500

Description: The Z-X3 experimental droid trooper, also spelled Zee-Exthree, was a crimson battle droid developed by TaggeCo during the Imperial era.
The Z-X3 was designed to work under extreme planetary conditions even stormtroopers couldn't survive such as radioactive environments and outer space.

It was similar in design to the earlier L8-L9 model developed by TaggeCo during the Clone Wars, though its outer plating was designed to resemble stormtrooper armor. The Z-X3 had no built-in weapons, so it carried a blaster rifle or Briletto AAP-IV "blaster box" on its chest. It also featured increased agility and maneuverability.

After the Z-X3's rejection by the Empire, two new stormtrooper divisions—the Zero-G "space trooper" and Radiation Zone Assault Trooper, or "Radtrooper"—filled the niches for which the Z-X3 was designed.

Tagge recruited Rom Mohc to his Droid Trooper Project, which made an experimental production of seventy Z-X3's for the Imperial military.

Ultimately, the Imperials were not satisfied, and with the defeat of the Separatist Droid Army fresh in the mind of Imperials, the Z-X3 was rejected. However, the model was used as a starting point for the later Dark trooper project.

A small number of Z-X3 droids were sent to Imperial garrisons, but most of the units ended up serving in private installations.

One Z-X3 went on to work as a security officer for the cyborg Kligson on his moon, the Droid World. In 3 ABY, he tried to kill Kligson and take over but killed a decoy instead. He was then destroyed by Kligson.

Stats by FreddyB, Descriptive text from WookieePedia
Image copyright LucasArts.
Any complaints, writs for copyright abuse, etc should be addressed to the Webmaster FreddyB.