Description: Hockaleg was a planet in the Patriim system. The Tarkin superweapon was built in orbit of Hockaleg, with the construction crew living in a spaceport town on the world in between work shifts. Citizens of this world worshiped the deity Holy Jaf.

Hockaleg spaceport

This spaceport town was located on the planet Hockaleg, in the Patriim system. The spaceport was home to the sizable construction crew of the Imperial Tarkin superweapon, constructed in Hockaleg's orbit, in between work shifts.

Patriim shipyards

The Patriim shipyards were located in the Patriim system above the planet Hockaleg. The shipyards were used by the Galactic Empire to do work on several major naval vessels. Notable examples included finishing and activating the dreadnought Eye of Palpatine, doing some early construction on the Death Star I battlestation and turning the Eclipse-class prototype into the operational battlestation Tarkin.
