Description: Rokkna were a species of massive, tentacled sea creature native to the planet Castilon.

Rokkna had four eyes, many tentacles, and skin colored in a green-blue pattern. Their eyes had hourglass-shaped pupils. Adults were much larger than juveniles, with juvenile rokkna such as Bibo being easily carried in the arms of a humanoid, while Bibo's mother was large enough to conceivably destroy the entire Colossus platform.

In 34 ABY, a young rokkna was found on Castilon in the Karavian Trench. The rokkna was temporarily adopted by Neeku Vozo, who named the creature Bibo. When Bibo's mother went to retrieve her offspring, the Colossus platform was attacked until Vozo returned Bibo.
