Races D6 / Frigosian

Name: Frigosian
Homeworld: Tansyl 5
Language: Frigosian language

Attribute Dice: 12D
Dex: 1D/4D
Know: 1D/4D+1
Mech: 1D/3D
Perc: 2D/4D+2
Str: 1D/3D+1
Tech: 1D/3D

Special Abilities:

Nightsight: Frigosians come from a dark world and have naturally sensitive vision, which lowers all penalties for darkness by one level.

Story Factors:

Day Blind: As described above, Frigosians come from a dark world and their naturally sensitive vision means they have difficulty seeing in what is normally consider normal amounts of light increasing all difficulties for sight based tasks by one level unless they were goggles which compensate for the light.

Non-Oxygen Breathers: Frigosians do not breath normal oxygen based atmospheres and require breath masks to operate normally.

Cybernetics: Frigosians usually replace their hands with cybernetic replacements, adding useful tools and equipment in the process.

Hair color: Yellowish
Distinctions: Nocturnal species with sensitive eyes and large mouths
Move: 8/10
Size: 1.2 meter tall

Description: Frigosians were a sentient species that were native to the planet Tansyl 5. Small for the average humanoid, they had sensitive eyes that meant they had to wear goggles to protect them from the light in certain environments. The Frigosian Opeepit was a janitor on the Colossus platform, while the Frigosians Thromba and Laparo were cryptosurgeons working at Maz Kanata's castle.

Biology and appearance

Frigosians were a sentient species hailing from the planet Tansyl 5. They had dome-shaped heads as wide as their shoulders and were covered in a thick layer of fluffy yellowish hair. By humanoid standards, they were regarded as short-sized. Although their fur usually concealed it, they had a large mouth filled with dagger-like teeth.

A nocturnal species, the Frigosians had sensitive eyes, and, in certain environments, they were forced to wear heavy black goggles to protect them from the light. On worlds such as Takodana and Castilon, the atmosphere was so different from that of Tansyl 5 that Frigosians had to use breathing apparatuses. They had a language of their own, which consisted in series of chirps.

Stats by FreddyB, Descriptive Text from WookieePedia
Image copyright LucasArts
Any complaints, writs for copyright abuse, etc should be addressed to the Webmaster FreddyB.