Description: This Yinchorri shuttle was used by the Yinchorri during the Galactic Civil War. It was piloted by an unidentified Yinchorri pilot, who flew the craft to the Alliance Fleet to pick up Princess Leia Organa for a meeting with the Yinchorri Council of Elders. The craft was shot down by a TIE pilot attempting to assassinate Organa, and the entire Yinchorri crew was killed in the crash.

The shuttle was a small streamlined craft with a single blaster cannon situated on the top of the ship. Two engines were situated on opposite sides of the shuttle. The blaster cannon turret was accessible by a small ladder that sat next to the pilot's chair. Organa was strapped into the turret during the crash, which saved her when the shuttle crashed in the Yinchorri desert.
