Description: The F-11ABA heavy blaster cannon was a weapon put into service by Sith jet troopers of the Sith Eternal fleet.

Description
The F-11ABA was a deadly blaster rifle which utilized an amplifier barrel to produce a powerful explosive round. A successor to the First Order's standard issue F-11D blaster rifle, it was used by Sith jet troopers on Exegol. It was issued with an adjustable J20 electroscope which transmitted information from the scope to the user's helmet, allowing for increased accuracy and battlefield awareness.

History
The F-11ABA was deployed with Sith jet troopers on Exegol to repel Resistance forces attempting to assault the Star Destroyer Steadfast to prevent the Sith fleet from leaving the system. Although unsuccessful, the F-11ABA wielded by the highly trained jet troopers proved to be a highly effective weapon against the boarding Resistance troopers, inflicting heavy casualties.
