Description: CS-9147 was a human from the Otomok system who who served the First Order as a jet trooper. In 35 ABY, CS-9147 and another jet trooper pursued the scavenger Rey and her Resistance allies through the deserts of the planet Pasaana. The two troopers managed to destroy their foes' skimmers but were ultimately both killed.

CS-9147 was a human born in the Otomok system[1] in 10 ABY[2] who served in the Stormtrooper Corps of the First Order as a jet trooper.[1] In 35 ABY,[3] CS-9147 and another jet trooper were amongst a division of First Order forces deployed to the planet Pasaana to search for the scavenger Rey and her allies in the Resistance. One of the two jet troopers spotted their targets fleeing on skimmers from the Festival of the Ancestors in the Forbidden Valley and alerted the other First Order forces.

CS-9147 and the other jet trooper gave chase on the back of two 125-Z Treadspeeder bikes, launching from the vehicles and opening fire on the skimmers. Their targets split up, with Resistance members Finn, Poe Dameron and C-3PO heading down a narrow valley in their HS-19 cargo loading transport skimmer. One treadbike followed them down the valley, but the two jet troopers and remaining treadspeeder continued chasing Rey and her allies Chewbacca and BB-8 as they remained in the open desert on a Arunskin 75D skimmer.[4]

After the treadspeeder was destroyed, Chewbacca managed to shoot down one of the two jet troopers with his bowcaster. After the two skimmers reunited, the second jet trooper managed to destroy both vehicles, but was killed when the skimmers' occupants survived and returned fire.
