Planets D6 / Guavian Death Space

Name: Guavian Death Space
Asteroids: Guavian space asteroid field
Affiliation: Guavian Death Gang

Description: Guavian Death Space, also known as Guavian space, was a region of space in the galaxy controlled by the Guavian Death Gang. An asteroid field was located on one edge of the region. During the First Order–Resistance war, the Colossus refuelling station passed through Guavian space, and fought a skirmish with Guavian forces inside the asteroid field, which they had travelled through in an attempt to remain unnoticed.

Guavian space asteroid field
This asteroid field was located in the galaxy on the edge of Guavian Death Space, a region controlled by the Guavian Death Gang. During the First Order–Resistance war, the Colossus, passing through Guavian space, travelled through the asteroid field in an attempt to exit the region without being noticed by the criminal organization. After the space station was spotted and reported by a Guavian scout, its defending forces fought a skirmish with Guavian forces on the edge of the asteroid field.
