The Force D6 / Force Bellow

Name: Force Bellow
Control Difficulty: Difficult

Effect: The Force Bellow causes a wave of pressure equal to the Jedi's alter skill to all beings within 50 meters, Force Sensitive characters roll their alter dice to resist damage (those without the alter skill use Strength). This wave of pressure pushes anyone in the area away, clearing and causing light damage to the area and causing those pushed to take damage if the pressure wave pushes them into anything.

Description: Force bellow was a power in which the user would amplify their voice using the Force.

The insane Jedi Master Joruus C'baoth used this power while on board Grand Admiral Thrawn's command ship, the Chimaera. C'baoth usually startled Gilad Pellaeon, the captain of the ship, as he entered the bridge bellowing Thrawn's name.

Ithorian Jedi were capable of using this power as well, amplifying their voices to immense proportions to destroy obstructions. The Ithorian Jedi Roron Corobb was one who used this technique in combat during the Clone Wars. He used it against General Grievous while protecting Supreme Chancellor Palpatine.

In 40 ABY, Jedi Master Saba Sebatyne used this power to be heard at her eulogy speech during Funeral of Mara Jade Skywalker.
